Crestmore Manor, a 10,830 square-foot colonial-style mansion, was built in the mid 1950’s by W.W. “Tiny” Naylor, a restaurateur and the state’s second-leading thoroughbred breeder of the time, to fulfill his wife’s desire to live in a home similar to the ones found in Kentucky’s horse country.

In 1973, the County of Riverside purchased the home and the surrounding area along the Santa Ana River to be used for open space, habitat conservation, and park use. The Parks Department was a natural fit for the property and made the home their Headquarters soon after the acquisition.

In the 1990’s the site began to gain popularity as a wedding venue and soon the grounds were occupied nearly every weekend with newlyweds and their guests. In 2006, in order to cater to the growing wedding interest, a new event venue, the Carriage House, was constructed directly behind the main Manor House. In 2019, the Riverfront Room was added and renovation of the courtyard was completed, bringing additional capacity, features, and amenities to the site.

The Riverside County Regional Park and Open-Space District (RivCoParks) continues to utilize the site as its headquarters, offering the Carriage House, Riverfront Room, courtyard and grounds for weddings and special events.
