Rancho Jurupa Park

A favorite destination of campers and anglers from all over the county as well as local residents, beautiful Rancho Jurupa Park is situated along the Santa Ana River and located behind Mt. Rubidoux just west of charming historic downtown Riverside. This popular award-winning regional park boasts a natural semi-rural setting of shady cottonwood trees, grassy day use, and two lovely 3-acre lakes, while still providing easy access to the entertainment opportunities and urban conveniences of the city.

Visitors to Rancho Jurupa Park enjoy a gorgeous 200-acre recreational area with many amenities. Activities include a splash pad for water play, a rock climbing playground, miniature golf surrounded by a rushing creek, and a disc golf course. Rancho Jurupa’s lakes, regularly stocked with trout during the colder seasons and catfish in the warmer months, provide excellent fishing opportunities.

For overnight or extended stays, guests can choose from two great campgrounds that suit the needs of tent and RV campers alike. Lakeview Campground, nearest the lakes and a popular camping spot for both RV and tent campers, features mature shade trees and all the charms of a classic family campground. Cottonwood Campground is a state-of-the-art RV campground designed to meet the more sophisticated needs of RV-lifestyle campers, providing all the modern conveniences such as laundry facilities, and Wi-Fi access. In addition, our luxurious new rental cabins offer effortless comfort and convenience while still providing access to the great outdoors.
